WIFLE LEADERSHIP AWARD

Recognizes federal law enforcement/private industry partnership and emphasizes the importance of crime prevention. Law enforcement has the expertise to respond to critical incidents and every day crime. In today's environment, it is critical that law enforcement's energy is harnessed towards prevention. Proactive prevention is a critical step in solving community problems that have lasting effects. Recognizing and valuing law enforcement visionary leadership does not mean that traditional law enforcement methods and leaders are discarded. What this award does is recognize those that seek the beginning to the end of violence and crime in their area of responsibility.

1. The award nominations must clearly show initiative and effective partnership in creating a system or model that prevents crimes. This model may have developed as a result of learning from past crimes, or as a result of thinking proactively and creatively about what can be done to prevent certain crimes from occurring again.
2. This type of critical thinking and implementation of crime prevention models is decidedly a mark of a leader. To incorporate a proactive, community-based problem-solving model requires vision, purpose, and an alignment of resources to accomplish goals and a firm commitment to working in partnership with the community.
3. The model was have been developed between January 1, 2018, and December 31, 2018 or the impact is evident during that time-period. The nominations may come from any law enforcement source but must have the approval of an agency SES level official that is familiar with the achievement.

Eligibility: Open to all Federal law enforcement government full-time employees, both sworn and non-sworn. The nomination can be of an individual or a group. The write up should address the prevention initiative, the individual's role, the partnership developed, the results and the outcome.

ELIZEBETH SMITH FRIEDMAN INTELLIGENCE AWARD OF EXCELLENCE
