About Phoenix

Phoenix is the capital city of Arizona and is located in the central region of the state known for its year-round sun, desert beauty, and world-class resorts and golf, but as the fifth-largest city in the U.S., it also offers sophisticated urban landscapes, southwest culture and lots of outdoor adventure. The "Valley of the Sun" as Phoenicians refer to it, is surrounded by mountain parks—in fact, South Mountain Park and Preserve is the largest municipal park in the U.S.—so it's easy to get out and enjoy the flora, fauna and some incredible views (and sunsets). And, although Phoenix is in the Sonoran Desert, there are six lakes in close proximity where water lovers kayak, paddleboard, Jet ski, waterski, boat, fish or just lounge on the shore.

For indoor pursuits, Phoenix has some unique museums: The Heard Museum, celebrates Native American art and culture; Western Spirit: Scottsdale's Museum of the West, features the art and history of the Old West and the Musical Instrument Museum, the largest museum of its kind in the world with a collection of over 15,000 instruments from 200 countries. Greater Phoenix has become a hotspot for local cuisine of every conceivable variety as well as for beverages that are brewed, distilled or fermented.

Join WIFLE for a destination that is anything but ordinary; Phoenix is an ideal setting for the WIFLE Foundation 22nd Annual Leadership Training. It also happens to be the home to two airports, Sky Harbor International Airport and Williams Gateway Airport.
